DIEGO MARTINEZ

VOCALIST BANDLEADER SAN ANTONIO

Jazz vocalist and bandleader from San Antonio, Texas.

A Berklee College of Music graduate, Diego sings the Great American Songbook with a warm, unhurried voice, in cocktail rooms, concert halls, and everything between. In 2019 he shared the stage with Michael Bublé at the AT&T Center.

While helping to lead the Fermata Jazz ensembles, from an intimate trio to a full sextet and more, Diego aims for art that is tailored and intentional to the unique demands of each space. He believes each set should be shaped to the room, the audience, and the night.

A San Antonio native and a full-time vocalist for more than six years, Diego performs both solo with backing tracks and with a live jazz band. Since 2021 his calendar has moved from wineries, private clubs, and hotel lounges to the Texas Jazz Festival and the Nolan Ryan Foundation at Dell Diamond. He also founded Fermata Jazz, a boutique booking and production company with a network of more than 100 Central Texas musicians, so each event gets the right ensemble.
